Global Mobility Solutions Achieves Top 3 Ranking in HRO Today's Baker's Dozen Customer Satisfaction Survey

SCOTTSDALE, AZ, USA, March 16, 2020 – Global Mobility Solutions (GMS), the industry leader in corporate relocation services and technology, is proud to announce it has achieved Top 3 ranking on HRO Today's 2020 Baker's Dozen Customer Satisfaction Survey. As the largest customer survey of its kind within the relocation management industry, the Baker's Dozen is a trusted measure of talent management performance. The complete listings are available at HRO Today.

"GMS is proud to continue its long history of being ranked in this prestigious survey as a top corporate relocation services and technology provider," said Steven Wester, President of Global Mobility Solutions. "We are grateful to our clients and their relocating employees for continuing to give us the opportunity to partner with them in meeting their global mobility needs."

According to the editors at HRO Today, their rankings are based entirely on surveys received from buyers of the rated services. The annual survey analyzes relocation companies in three service categories: service breadth, deal sizes, and service quality.

GMS customers continually give the company high marks in the survey for its extensive global services, adaptive domestic relocation solutions and the industry's most comprehensive and longest standing pre-decision program. GMS consistently ranks high on several important metrics such as transferee satisfaction, client satisfaction, relocation technology, service response time, invoice accuracy, and MyRelocation® data analytics.

As the premier journal on human resources operations and outsourcing, HRO Today's annual publication of the Baker's Dozen list is a much-anticipated event. Incorporating sound scientific methodology, the surveys underpinning the list are designed to offer meaningful and actionable feedback on what constitutes true customer satisfaction.
